BULLETIN OF THE MONTH

Food for the family—a cost-saving plan
Home and Garden Bulletin No. 209

This publication is designed especially for families who want to follow the USDA low-cost food plan. Guides for planning well-balanced meals at low cost are included, along with information on food shopping and preparation. Sample menus are shown for the food manager with little time for food preparation as well as for the food manager who has considerable time for and interest in cooking. Tested recipes for some foods in the sample menus are included.

NOTE: Single copies of publications other than those listed FOR SALE ONLY may be obtained free as long as the supply permits from the Office of Communication, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. Prices are given for the convenience of persons desiring to purchase these publications in quantities and for those who make frequent purchases of government publications. Remittances should be sent to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, except as otherwise noted.

HOME AND GARDEN BULLETINS

A guide to budgeting for the family. (G 108) 14 p. 35¢.
This revised bulletin provides a simple step-by-step guide that families can follow in setting up and using a budget. It also includes helpful information on the use of consumer credit.

Trees for shade & beauty, their selection and care. (G 117) 8 p. 25¢.
This slightly revised bulletin tells how to select trees for beautification of homes and streets and how to plant trees and care for them. It suggests how civic groups can take community action to replace lost shade trees.

Controlling fleas. (G 121) 6 p. 35¢.
Fleas often breed in large numbers where pets and livestock are kept. They spread through homes, buildings, and yards. They attack pets, livestock, poultry, and people. This slightly revised publication tells the common kinds of fleas, their development, and how to control them with insecticides.

Food for the family—a cost-saving plan. (G 209) 22 p. 45¢.

LEAFLETS

Why fruit trees fail to bear. (L 172) Folder. 35¢.
Healthy trees produce good quality fruit. Weak or diseased trees produce fruit of poor quality or no fruit at all. The first step in fruit production is to keep your fruit trees healthy. This slight revision discusses tree health, climate and weather and the effect of pollination on fruit trees.

Replenishing underground water supplies on the farm. (L 452) 8 p. 35¢.
Beneath the surface of the ground are water basins with unused storage capacity far in excess of the largest surface reservoirs. In many localities, farmers who irrigate can use these underground reservoirs as supplements to ponds and other surface basins by storing water in them for later use. This slightly revised bulletin discusses five methods by which water can be deposited in the underground basins—the basin, furrow, flooding, shaft or pit, and injection-wells methods.

Raising guinea fowl. (L 519) 8 p. 35¢.
This revised Leaflet discusses the care and rearing of guinea fowl, with emphasis on production, management, rearing, and marketing.

MOTION PICTURES

U.S.D.A. films are available for purchase from: Sales Branch
National Audiovisual Center
Washington, D.C. 20409

Water on the fire. 1952. 27 min, 16mm film.

Demonstrates effective and economical ways to use water in extinguishing various types of burning fuels in the forest of the eastern United States.

Men, women and children: 1954. 27 min, 16mm film.

Shows how the everyday unsafe habits of kindly people can cause devastating forest fires through negligence and thoughtlessness. They didn't mean to start a forest fire. Safe habits in forest are emphasized.

Longer life for wood. 1954. 17 min, 16mm film.

Designed to show the average user of wood the economic advantages of using treated wood in places where decay is likely to occur. Shows the value of good construction, and how improper construction can lead to early decay in wood. Portrays treatment of wood with preservatives in commercial treating plants, as well as home treatments on the farm and in the city.

Helicopters in fire control. 1960. 13 min, 16mm film.

The small helicopter has demonstrated a wide utility in fire control. Shows the various ways in which it has proved valuable and how its use must be wisely managed by personnel and coordinated with other air and ground equipment.

The forest. 1960. 29 min, 16mm film.

Shows that national forests are valuable for water conservation, timber, forage and recreation. Depicts trail riding, skiing and picnicking. Uses little narration. Music is by the Air Force Symphony Orchestra.
